

Medical Administrative Assistant DEGREE & CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Medical Administrative Assistant Program at Western Texas College is ideal for students interested in acquiring the skills needed to succeed in today's competitive medical office environment.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Upon completion of courses, students will take the National Healthcareer Association certification exam to earn the following national certification: Certified Medical Administrative Assistant (CMAA).

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES & OUTLOOK

WTC prepares students for a variety of exciting entry-level medical office support positions such as medical billing, medical records, and medical clinic management.

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, most positions will see growth through 2030, including Medical Information Clerks (2%) and Medical Records Specialists (9%).

DEGREE AND CERTIFICATES OFFERED

The Medical Administrative Assistant Program offers the Associate of Applied Science Degree and a one-year certificate.

CONTACT

For more information about the Medical Administrative Assistant Program, contact:

Shawn Fonville
Dean of Career and Technical Education
325-574-7645 office
sfonville@wtc.edu
wtc.edu/medicaladminassistant